STATES PATHFINDER

Use the online resources below to help you with your state project. Remember to fill out a works cited sheet as you are researching!

World Book Online
http://worldbookonline.com/

Login ID: ellis1
Password: ellis

Learn About the States: Visit the government website for each state and the District of Columbia and explore what's near you!
http://kids.usa.gov/learn-about-the-states/index.shtml

IPL's Stately Knowledge: These web pages will help you find out the basic facts of any state in the US. Need to know the capital of Alabama? Want to know which hockey teams are in California? How about the size of Montana? All that information is here—and more!
http://www.ipl.org/div/stateknow/

CultureGrams: Find out more about your state, including timelines, fast facts, pro sports teams, famous people, and more!
http://online.culturegrams.com/states/index.php

State Facts for Students: The US Census Bureau collects and organizes a wide variety of population, social, and economic information for the nation and reports these data each states.
http://www.census.gov/schools/facts/

PebbleGo Next: Find information on your state by asking your librarian for this database's login information! https://www.pebblegonext.com/next/states/